Harmony Moralis

Although Harmony has worked in the construction environment for many years, she was looking to advance her career by renewing her CSCS Green Card, and learning new skills at Worksop Skills Academy

AT A GLANCE

Challenges

- Looking progress her career
- Needed to understand computer basics
- Wanted to learn about new health & safety practices

Harmony, a groundworker, scaffolder, and roofer with over a decade of experience in the construction industry, enrolled in Worksop Academy's Introduction to Construction (ITC) programme to renew her CSCS Green Card and learn about new health and safety practices.

She gained valuable knowledge about fire extinguishers, basic computer skills, and site operations during the programme. Impressed with her experience, she returned to Worksop Academy to upskill in bricklaying, and her tutor has nothing but praise for her determination to better her skills. Harmony recommends Worksop Academy to anyone looking to improve their knowledge in the construction industry.

CHALLENGES

Harmony wanted to renew her CSCS Green Card and learn about new health and safety practices in the construction industry. She also wanted to brush up on basic computer skills and learn more about fire extinguishers. She had a fear of computers and felt unsure about using them.

SOLUTIONS

Harmony enrolled in Worksop Academy's Introduction to Construction (ITC) programme to renew her CSCS Green Card for free and learn about new health and safety practices.

During the programme, she gained knowledge about fire extinguishers, basic computer skills, and site operations. Worksop Academy's lead tutor, Adam, helped her understand the basics of using a computer, and she felt more confident about it. Harmony learned the fundamental things about fire extinguishers, and she felt more prepared to handle them in case of a hazard.

Harmony Moralis

Harmony enjoyed her experience at Worksop Academy and praised the lead tutor, Adam, for his excellent support throughout the course. She felt more confident about using a computer, and handling fire extinguishers saying: this is really helpful when you're out on site as they can be a minefield for hazards. She also found the programme valuable for brushing up her knowledge about new health and safety practices in the construction industry.

Harmony decided to upskill herself in bricklaying and returned to Worksop Academy, where her tutor praised her determination to better her skills. She highly recommends Worksop Academy to anyone looking to improve their knowledge in the construction industry.

INSPIRATION

Harmony's journey with Worksop Academy showcases the value of upskilling in the construction industry. With the help of Worksop Academy's ITC programme, she renewed her CSCS Green Card, learned about new health and safety practices, and brushed up her knowledge about fire extinguishers and site operations. She overcame her fear of computers and felt more confident about using them.

Her decision to upskill in bricklaying highlights the importance of continuous learning and development in the construction industry. Worksop Academy's supportive environment and expert tutors helped her achieve her goals and prepare for a successful career in the industry.

When it's something I can demolish, great, I'm in my comfort zone. But computers... oh, no, they scare me. When I sat down to use one for the first time, I was like 'So how do you turn it on?' I'm getting there though. Adam has really helped me understand the basics and I feel much more confident when I'm sat in front of one now."
